RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Summer Intern, Research Department, IDB | Washington, DC

Jun 2022 – Aug 2022

- For Eric Parrado (Inter-american Development Bank, IDB).
- Derived econometric specification to study occupational mobility and job computerisation on the labor markets in Peru and the US. Handled panel survey databases and reported graphs and tables. Currently working on a draft.

Part-time Research Assistant, Department of Economics, Universidad de Piura | Lima, Peru

Oct 2019 – Aug 2021

- For Miguel-Ángel Carpio (Universidad de Piura), Horacio Larreguy (ITAM), John Marshall (Columbia University).
- Quantitative analysis using econometrics and handling of large administrative databases on electoral candidates and government spending in Peru. Draft reports including tables and graphs ready for analysis.
- Qualitative analysis from conducting interviews with government officials.

Research Assistant, Group of Analysis for Development (GRADE) | Lima, Peru

Mar 2016 – Oct 2018

- For Juan-José Díaz (GRADE).
- Provided analysis on several research projects in the topics of labor, poverty, health and gender. Including the application of quasi-experimental impact evaluation methods and decomposition analysis, literature reviews, and data handling.
- Managed the implementation of a experimental research project about the impacts of a production program on gender empowerment outcomes. Including questionnaire design, training of fieldworkers, and econometric analysis.
- Built algorithms to parse and scrape information from web pages, analyzed georeferenced data, constructed large data sets, which required proficiency in the use of tools such as ArcGis, and coding in Python and Stata.

Research Assistant, Department of Economics, Universidad de Piura | Lima, Peru

Jan 2014 – Dec 2014

- For Noelia Bernal (Universidad del Pacífico), Miguel-Ángel Carpio (Universidad de Piura).
- Quantitative analysis using econometrics, literature review, and handling of main household surveys to carry quasi-experimental impact evaluation of Peru's largest social programs like Seguro Integral de Salud (SIS) and Pension 65.
